

Est. 1992

Where Writers Grow!

www.finelines.org
fine-lines@cox.net (402) 871-3682
9905 Rockbrook Road, Omaha, NE 68124

For Immediate Release
July 15, 2021

Omaha-Based Creative Writing Journal Prepares for Mini-Conference via Zoom

OMAHA – Fine Lines is a non-profit educational organization that began in a 1992 remedial high school English classroom. For 30 years, Fine Lines has provided a safe space for all writers, especially, for those who thought, “I know I have a voice; I just did not know there was anyone who would listen.”

Writers from all over the world are invited to attend this year's September 2021 Fine Lines mini-conference. Our theme is “Intuition – Muse - Creativity.” We believe people have voices, and they stem from their own intuitions and muses. As writers, it is fundamental to understand where our drive to be creative comes from. Our mini-conference will help uncover these three components. The conference will take place on September 20-21, 2021, 2-4 PM Central Time. The conference is for adult writers.

Fill out the conference registration form attached to this release, and send it to 9905 Rockbrook Road, Omaha, NE 68124 or via email to fine-lines@cox.net!

The registration fee is $50 for the two-day conference. PayPal is available.

To learn more about our creative writing journal, its annual creative writing summer camps, quarterly conferences, and how authors-poets-artists may send their own submissions, visit www.finelines.org today.

